

NATIVE SECRET SOCIETIES

In Philippines Present Most Formidable Problem to be Solved.

GENERAL B. M. YOUNG SAYS.

Chicago, April 9.—General Young, who has arrived here enroute from Manila to Washington says that the most formidable problem confronting the United States government in the Philippines today is presented by the two great native secret societies, the Katipunan and Sandanhan. The first named is distinctively military in its character, and numbers among its members the real leaders of the insurrection. The second is civil and embraces every native in the island who is in sympathy with the rebel cause. The second secures funds, provisions and arms for the first and informs its members of all movements of the United States troops. The influence of these two organizations is widespread and our means of approaching the prime movers are limited.

"The utmost secrecy governs the work of all these societies. They are crafty, skillful, and we find to our cost, treacherous. Their hatred of our people is as bitter as it is groundless, and, in my opinion the quickest and best, if not the only way to wean them from their prejudices is by means of American colonization of the islands.

"Will Aguinaldo's capture have a good effect on those still under arms?" was asked.

"Yes, it will probably lead many to submit to what would appear the inevitable, but just how wide this effect will be I am unable to say.

"General Tinio, the most formidable general in the north, is still holding out, but through hope of reward he may follow Aguinaldo's example. He commands an uncertain number of guerillas, perhaps 3,000 who are independent in character, much as Mosby's men were during the civil war, and who fly to cover at the first signal of serious danger.

"If a mail or postmaster's squal crosses their territory it is waylaid and usually most of its members slain, but let any large number of troops follow immediately after and all that can be seen are farmers toiling industriously in the fields. We have tried to catch Tinio again and again, but he is as slippery as an eel.

"Every town of any size in Northern Luzon has been organized under a new system of municipal government. A president or alcalde and a council to correspond to our mayor and board of aldermen. All the officers are natives who have been encouraged to act for themselves, under the guidance of military authorities in the regulation of all town affairs. Though we have had many cases of treachery, the results on the whole are encouraging. It is my belief, however, that the Filipinos are quite incapable of self government at present."

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—Dr. D. K. Dr. Parsons was conducted to the speaker's rostrum and addressed the house. In the course of his speech he said:

"You have passed a resolution that does me more good than anything else that I have ever had done for me before. I made money in the state of Illinois honestly and squarely. I am using that money while I am alive; I don't want any inheritance tax on my property when I have gone. I am using that money to educate and bring up the poor, the poor boys and girls. I am for the boy behind the plow—that is the boy I am after—and I say to you, gentlemen of this assembly that there is no business that a man ever engaged in that will compare with the business I am doing, and to be approved by you gives me great satisfaction."

"Gentlemen, I sincerely and heartily thank you and I shall keep right on in the way I am doing, lifting up the poor. I never give to the rich. I am for the poor boys and girls. If every one in the world were healthy and happy what a glad day Easter would be. But the sun rises every Easter morning on a multitude of sick and afflicted. Nearly one-half the people in the United States are suffering from some form or phase of catarrhal ailment. These ailments take different forms at different seasons of the year. In the springtime catarrh assumes a systemic form, producing nervousness, lassitude and general languor.

Systemic catarrh deranges the digestion and through deranged digestion it impoverishes or contaminates the blood. Thus we have blood diseases and nervous derangements through systemic catarrh.

Peruna is a specific for these cases. No other remedy yet devised by the medical profession is able to successfully meet so many phases of spring ailments as Peruna.
